Remove duplicates.

1. In the tools menu click the “Check for Duplicates” button and Mendeley will tell you if any of your references appear to be duplicates and give you the offer to merge them.

2. If you have imported the same reference from two different sources, the data might be slightly different, but Mendeley should still be able to detect duplicates. It will inform you if the references are not completely identical.